

Enhanced Recreational Access to the upper East Branch Delaware River Survey

A Recreational Treasure of the Central Catskill Mtn Region

This online survey (at www.EastBranchAccess.com) was conducted of 142 users or potential users of the recreational resource. The survey was launched June 14, 2011 and was closed June 22, 2012. The survey was designed and initiated prior to the Pepacton Reservoir being open for non-motorized boating access, as well as prior to Tropical Storms Irene and Lee.

Feb 21, 2012 12:14 PM
17	The east branch of the Delaware provides a lot opportunities for public fishing rights - all you need is access and there shouldn't be any conflicts. Years ago you used to be able to fish the entire length of the stream behind Hidden Waters Golf course from the rt 30 bridge up to where Batavia Kill comes in. Any part of Mill Brook above where the tuscarora club owns the creek and state land would be very nice. Vly Creek just above "lake Switzerland" has a stretch just below the first bridge that was owned by George Waller who passed away before the flood - then the flood nailed the property. Heirs might be willing to sell fishing	Feb 20, 2012 8:40 AM

46	Dry Brook is a beautiful stream but one landowner owns virtually every inch of stream access. It is a stream that prior to the hurricane had finally reestablished its fish stock after being devastated by the '96 flood. Stocking with fish and public access wherever possible would be advantageous if coupled with serious attention paid to the fishing potential of the greater Headwaters area, including stocking on a grand scale as well as increased access.
